RE: Request for Quote No. 202-CW — Two-Day Strategic Planning Retreat

Dear Procurement Specialist,

Hargrave Innovative Solutions (HIS) is pleased to submit this quote in response to Travis County's Request for Quote No. 202-CW for facilitation services for a Two-Day Strategic Planning Retreat for the Transportation & Natural Resources (TNR) Division.

We bring direct experience facilitating executive and leadership retreats for local government agencies, with particular expertise in helping public-sector teams align strategic priorities, synthesize complex operational input into actionable plans, and build shared vision across organizational levels.

Our approach to this engagement is grounded in three principles:

- Structured yet adaptive facilitation that respects the distinct needs of senior leadership (Day 1) and the broader management team (Day 2)
- Pre-retreat discovery that ensures every minute of retreat time is productive — no orientation, no warm-up waste
- Actionable deliverables that translate retreat outcomes into a clear roadmap the TNR Division can execute immediately

We understand the unique dynamics of county government — the balance between elected leadership priorities, departmental operations, and public accountability. Our facilitation approach is calibrated specifically for this environment.

We confirm that we meet all minimum qualifications, can comply with all insurance requirements, and are prepared to begin pre-retreat consultation immediately upon award.

Respectfully submitted,

Eric Hargrave

Chief Executive Officer

RESPONSE TO MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

1. Local Government Experience

Hargrave Innovative Solutions has direct experience providing strategic planning, facilitation, and organizational development services to local government entities. Our team understands county governance structures, commissioners court dynamics, interdepartmental coordination challenges, and the public accountability requirements that shape how government teams set and execute strategy.

{{ACTION REQUIRED: Eric — insert 2-3 specific local government clients or engagements here. Example: 'Facilitated strategic planning retreat for [County/City] [Department], resulting in a 3-year operational roadmap adopted by commissioners court.'}}

2. Executive/Leadership Retreat Facilitation

We have demonstrated experience designing and facilitating retreats for senior leaders in organizations with complex stakeholder dynamics. Our retreats are structured to move beyond status updates into genuine strategic alignment — ensuring that leadership teams leave with shared priorities, clear ownership, and concrete next steps.

{{ACTION REQUIRED: Eric — insert 2-3 specific retreat facilitation examples. Include audience size, duration, and outcomes. Government examples are strongest.}}

3. Relevant Domain Experience

While the RFQ notes that experience in permitting, transportation, parks, and natural resources is preferred, our facilitation methodology is domain-adaptive. We invest pre-retreat time understanding the specific operational landscape, terminology, and challenges facing the TNR Division. Our pre-retreat questionnaire and consultation process ensures that facilitation is grounded in the Division's actual priorities — not generic exercises.

{{ACTION REQUIRED: Eric — if you or any team member has direct experience in transportation, parks, infrastructure, or environmental services, cite it here. Even adjacent experience (public works, infrastructure planning, environmental compliance) strengthens this section.}}

4. Strategic Planning & Group Facilitation Expertise

Our facilitation practice is built on proven methodologies for synthesizing complex, sometimes competing inputs into actionable strategic outcomes. We specialize in:

- Structured consensus-building across hierarchical teams
- SWOT and environmental scanning adapted for government context
- Priority-mapping exercises that connect operational realities to strategic vision
- Conflict-aware facilitation that surfaces productive disagreement without derailing progress
- Real-time documentation that captures decisions as they happen — no post-retreat guesswork

5. Synthesizing Complex Input into Actionable Outcomes

Every retreat we facilitate produces a written summary report with clear, prioritized outcomes. We do not deliver vague 'themes' — we deliver decision-ready recommendations with ownership, timelines, and success metrics defined.

6. Bringing Diverse Groups Together

The RFQ requires facilitation across two distinct groups: a senior leadership team of 8 on Day 1 and an expanded management team of 22 on Day 2. Our approach is specifically designed for this structure — Day 1 establishes strategic direction, and Day 2 cascades that direction into operational planning with the broader team, ensuring alignment without top-down imposition.

TECHNICAL APPROACH & METHODOLOGY

Phase 1: Pre-Retreat Planning (2–3 Weeks Before Retreat)

- Initial consultation with the County Executive or designee to confirm retreat objectives, desired outcomes, organizational context, and any sensitive dynamics
- Design and administer a confidential pre-retreat questionnaire to all participants (tailored versions for Day 1 and Day 2 groups)
- Analyze questionnaire responses and identify key themes, alignment areas, tension points, and priority opportunities
- Prepare and submit a detailed retreat agenda for review and approval, including session descriptions, timing, facilitation methods, and materials
- Coordinate logistics with County staff (room setup, AV needs, materials, breaks)

Phase 2: Day 1 — Senior Leadership Strategic Session (8 Participants)

Focus: Strategic direction-setting with Division Directors, County Executive, and Chief Deputy.

- Morning: Environmental scan and state-of-the-division assessment — what's working, what's not, what's changed since last strategic review
- Midday: Priority identification exercise — structured process to surface, debate, and rank the 3–5 strategic priorities for the next planning period
- Afternoon: Decision framework — for each priority, define success metrics, resource requirements, ownership, and realistic timelines
- Close: Prepare the 'cascade brief' — the structured summary that will frame Day 2's management team session

Phase 3: Day 2 — Management Team Working Session (22 Participants)

Focus: Translating strategic direction into operational plans with the full management team.

- Morning: Leadership presents Day 1 strategic priorities (with facilitator support) — not as directives but as direction for collaborative operational planning
- Midday: Breakout working groups aligned to each strategic priority — management team members develop implementation approaches, identify barriers, and define resource needs
- Afternoon: Cross-group sharing and alignment — each group presents plans, interdependencies are identified, and the full team builds a unified implementation roadmap
- Close: Commitment exercise — each participant identifies their specific role and first 30-day actions tied to the strategic plan

Phase 4: Post-Retreat Deliverables (5–7 Business Days After Retreat)

- Comprehensive written summary report documenting: key themes from pre-retreat assessment, Day 1 strategic priorities and rationale, Day 2 operational plans by priority area, cross-cutting interdependencies and resource needs, recommended next steps with timelines and ownership
- Clean, presentation-ready format suitable for sharing with Commissioners Court or other stakeholders
- Optional 30-day check-in call to assess implementation progress and address emerging questions
